

LONG BEACH COMIC CON

SEPTEMBER 12-13, 2015

SPECIAL GUESTS INCLUDE:

JOHN BARROWMAN
CHLOE BENNET

175+ Guests

Space Expo

Animation Island

Artist Alley

Cosplay Corner

100+ Panels

and more!

Thanks so much for being a part of Long Beach Comic Con 2015! We're very excited to have you as a guest at what we believe is our most amazing show ever.

Everything you always loved about LBCC is here again, but even better: a huge show floor filled with exhibitors ranging from top comic book publishers to the best comics and toy dealers, an Artists Alley overflowing with all your fave comics talent, great special/celebrity guests, plus our super fun kids area, and our biggest Cosplay Corner ever!

What we're truly excited about is our partnership with the prestigious Columbia Memorial Space Center, for our first ever Space Expo. This one-of-a-kind event features interactive exhibits, very special guests, and fascinating panels, all to do with the wild and wonderful world of space (the real kind!).

And speaking of panels, we have a lineup that will totally blow your mind. From the Mouse Guard panel to The Hillywood Show, there's truly something for everyone.

We're always asked about guests who appear on the list but who don't have a "home base" on the exhibit floor - there are times when a guest might only be participating in a signing or a panel, so we haven't assigned them a table. Please make sure to check the programming schedule to see exactly what your favorite creators are up to at LBCC, so you don't miss them.

And don't forget to mark your calendar now for the Long Beach Comic Expo, happening on February 20-21 of next year - same place, same amount of fun. Thanks so much for voting us the "Best of the Beach" in 2014 - let's do it again in 2015!

Enjoy the Show,
Martha & the Team

P.S. We're excited to announce the launch of New Jersey Comic Expo on November 21-22, 2015 at the New Jersey Convention Center. Visit www.newjerseycomicexpo.com for details or ask a LBCC staff member for details!

Animation Island Banner created by Mike Morris, Joey McCormick, Ben Risbeck, Sam Grinberg, Matthew Hill, Rachel Reed, Jeux Janovsky, Joanna Barondess, Jody Singleton and John Varvir.

SHOW HOURS

Saturday, September 12

9:30 am	Doors open for advance ticket holders
10:00 am	Doors open to the public
7:00 pm	Exhibit Floor Closes
7:30 pm	Costume Contest Begins

Sunday, September 13

10:00 am	Doors open for advance ticket holders
10:30 am	Doors open to the public
5:00 pm	Show Closes

How much are tickets?

Tickets at the door are $35 per person for a one day ticket on Saturday, and $30 for a one day ticket on Sunday. Tickets for a weekend pass are $55. Children ages 10 and under are admitted for free with the purchase of an adult admission (limit of 2 per adult, please). Senior citizen, military, police and firefighter discounts are available.

When is the Costume Contest?

Costume Contest begins at 7:30pm, doors will open at 7:00pm for audience seating. The event will run roughly two hours, and no flash photography is allowed. Any photos or videos taken must be for personal, non-profit use only!

Do I have to wear my badge or wrist band at all times?

Even if it wasn't a stunning accessory that the Sex in the City gals would pay hundreds of dollars for—yes, you need to wear it at all times while inside the hall. If you are caught without one, we will assume you did not pay the admission fee and you will be asked to leave.

I want to dress my dog up as my sidekick and bring him. Can I?

Sorry, no pets, except for registered service animals. And in that case, they shouldn't be playing dress up.

Can I take pictures?

Generally, you can take photographs at the Long Beach Comic Con of the conventioners and exhibits. Please respect privacy and ask before taking a picture of a celebrity, as some of them charge for their photo and autograph.

Where is Lost & Found located?

Lost & Found is located in the main lobby at the Registration Booth.

Do I have to pay extra to get autographs?

Some guests charge for their autographs, and some don't. Please ask first.

To complete my costume, I carry a large battle-axe that I hone to razor sharpness every day. It's cool for me to bring that, right?

Ummm, seriously? Props are one thing, but anything that could take an eye out, could hurt someone, or make the cops (or my mother) take it away from you, is not allowed. We have a strict policy of checking weapons to ensure that they are only props. The security guards at the entrance will check yours and place a band on it to show that it's been approved. The responsibility to get this weapons check performed is yours, so please don't sneak in without it. We reserve the right to deny access to anyone who is in a costume that presents a public safety or security issue.

POLICIES

All programming rooms have limited capacity as set by the Long Beach Fire Marshal and subject to available seating. Although your LBCC badge is required for entry into all events, it doesn't guarantee you access to any programming session if it has reached its capacity, subject to the discretion of Long Beach Convention Center and Long Beach Comic Con staff members. We don't clear our programming rooms between sessions.

Long Beach Comic Con believes in creating an environment where every attendee, exhibitor and staff member is treated with respect and dignity, and does not tolerate any act of bullying or harassment. If an attendee of any type is believed to be in violation of our rules, they will be asked to leave immediately without reimbursement of any kind. Long Beach Comic Con employs professional security guards who enforce our rules and regulations, as do our staff members. Volunteers are NOT staff members and are assisting us in exchange for certain reimbursement and experiential value. Please report any serious incidents or concerns to a Long Beach Comic Con Staff Member, as identified by their badge.

Why is your program book information wrong? We had to send this to the printer in late August and things may have changed since then. Please check the handouts for updated programming information!

12:30pm - 1:30pm

SCIENCE-FICTION/SCIENCE; SYNERGISTIC SISTERS

Scientists often draw from and are inspired by science fiction stories, and conversely sci-fi stories are driven by scientific discovery and innovations. In an age of rapidly advancing science discovery and exponential technology, we see a proliferation of science fiction stories across all media platforms, as well as the creation of new platforms such as Virtual Reality and Augmented Reality, which will drive a golden age of science fiction and fantasy story experiences. The synergistic relationship is explored by a panel of artists who are also scientist, science writers, or science enthusiasts. Panel Participants include feature and TV writer/producer Dr. Harry Kloor (Star Trek: Voyager, Deadzone, Earth Final Conflict/ Ph.D. Physics, Ph.D. Chemistry), writer, author, and science writer Neo Edmond (Clan of the Vein, Tale of Red Riding), producer and studio executive Debbie Myers (Through the Wormhole, Futurescape), and two of the Sciencs of Science - actress, writer, and new media producer Taryn O'Neill (NCIS, Vegas and Lie to Me) and actress, writer, journalist, Christen Gerhart (telescope operator at Mt. Wilson Observatory, actress, producer, model, and magician (Judge on SyFy's Wizard Wars), and Gia Mora is an actress, singer songwriter and creator of hit stage show EINSTEIN'S GIRL, as well as a member of STEM advocacy group Sciencs.

Missions on the panel include: Dawn mission at Ceres, Juno mission to Jupiter, Europa mission, InSight and Mars Cube One (MarCO). Discussion led by Mike Meacham, engineer for NASA's Low-Density Supersonic Decelerator.

3:00pm - 4:00pm

PLANNING A MARTIAN ROAD TRIP

What does it take to plan a 'road trip' on Mars? We'll discuss driving from Acidalia Planitia to Schiaparelli crater like astronaut Mark Watney does in the book 'The Martian' using the experience NASA-JPL has gained from years of operating rovers on Mars. The talk will be about the images and data we need, mapping a route, and driving hazards. Panelists include Dr. Fred Calef III - Mars Science Laboratory's 'Keeper of the Maps' and landing site analyst, Dr. Serina Diniega - member of the HIRISE Science Team and NASA's Mars Program Office, and Mike Seibert - Mars Exploration Rover driver and all-around rover engineer!

CREATING AN ANIMATED TV SERIES What does it take

"Enhancing your tabletop experience"

Free Download at GameRocketStudio.com

to create an animated series? Do you have to be a writer? An artist or animator? Both? Neither? What do you need to have to pitch an idea, and what are the studios and networks looking for? Who do you show your idea to and how do you get to see them? What form does a pitch take? And when you make that deal, what's likely to happen? Hear from people who've been there and done that, including Dobba Ebbs (Executive Producer, The Aquabats!), former Head of Programming, The Hub), Craig Miller (Pocket Dragon Adventures, Beast Wars), and Rob Hoegee (Thunderbirds are Go!, Teen Titans).

SHADES & SHADOWS LIVE Shades & Shadows is the only reading series in Los Angeles that focuses exclusively on dark fiction. We love dark fantasy, horror, science fiction, noir, you name it. Each event brings a blend of six debuting, emerging, or established authors together, each of whom will read for approximately seven minutes from their own works. They will delight and terrify you, making you squirm in your seat and raising the hairs upon your necks. You may get to hear excerpts from stories that haven't yet been published, or from novels you haven't yet discovered, or you might hear a favorite piece from a collection or novel you love and cherish. Our aim is to give you, the readers, an opportunity to explore new authors and expand your dark horizons.

THE HORROR OF IT ALL Be Bold. Be Honest. Be Collaborative. CryptTV creates original, dark and edgy content with the potential to grow into something bigger. Founded by Eli Roth, Crypt's goal is to create a close knit community within the horror space by championing creators and pushing boundaries with their storytelling. The shared belief of the #CryptFamily is that #WeirdIsGood! Sandy King Carpenter is no stranger to the horror genre, having produced horror movies for the past couple decades and launched her own horror comic book studio, Storm King Productions. Join these two Horror Powerhouses as they discuss what they love about their genre and how to succeed in the niche that they call home, moderated by Michele Brittany of Bleeding Cool.

DEVELOPING, SELLING AND PRODUCING ANIMATED WEB SERIES With shows like Dick Figures, Annoying Orange and Deep Space 69 generating hundreds of millions of views, establishing vibrant new brands and occasionally jumping over to TV, companies large and small are increasingly using YouTube and other online and mobile platforms as a way to incubate new talent and fresh series concepts. But how do you develop ideas that will work in this digital medium? Who is buying? What do you need to pitch in order to sell? And once you do sell, how do you produce content on limited available budgets? Come join our panel of seasoned creators, producers and buyers (Craig Miller, Brendan Burch, Chris Hamilton, Courtney Sanford, Stephen Leonard) for insights into this burgeoning online field.
